FUTURE NOW Festival of Creativity MAY - JUNE 2022

Official Map and Guide

Future Now is Sheffield's festival of creativity. Through exhibitions, events, performances and screenings we ask emerging artists, designers, filmmakers, animators, writers, architects and performers to open a window into their practices and show us their - and our - futures. This is a citywide platform showcasing the work of Sheffield Hallam University's graduating students, and we invite visitors to encounter new ways of understanding the world through art, design, architecture, film, photography, performance and writing.

Future Now presents creative proposals to real problems: from new fashion to new videogames human-centred approaches to the built environment to greater sustainability in the products we buy. These 'creatives' propose new brands and services, help us glimpse alternative realities, and launch new enterprises, but most of all they tell stories, documenting the world as they find it and how they'd like it to be.

Future Now takes place across Sheffield city centre and online through May and June 2022.

Future Now Careers and Employability Events

We are running a programme of events aimed at those thinking of further academic study or professional training and careers advice for those looking to work in the creative industries.

Eve Stirling: Postgraduate Study

Come and meet Eve Stirling, Head of postgraduate Art and Design for an informal Q&A session about studying Art and Design at MA/ MFA level at the university. Open to any students or graduates considering PG study.
